

“Timing is Everything... Or Is It?”

A provocative discussion by an international panel of leading stroke neurologists, rehabilitation experts and basic scientists on the results of the AVERT Trial.

Wednesday, Sept. 14, 2016 • 6pm – 9pm

Hotel Palace Royal Ballroom • 775 Avenue Honoré Mercier, Québec City, QC

Space for this free dinner and discussion is limited and on a first-come, first-served basis. Register now at : www.canadianstroke.ca/register

Speakers include:

Dr. Tom Carmichael, MD, PhD: neurologist and neuroscientist at the Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA

Dr. Dale Corbett, PhD: neuroscientist at the University of Ottawa and Scientific Director/CEO of the HSF Canadian Partnership for Stroke Recovery

Dr. Andrew Demchuk, MD: stroke neurologist and Director of the Calgary Stroke Program, University of Calgary

Dr. Janice Eng, PT/OT, PhD: Canada Research Chair in Neurological Rehabilitation and clinical trialist at University of British Columbia

Dr. Gert Kwakkel, PT, PhD: rehabilitation expert at the VU University Medical Centre in Amsterdam, The Netherlands

Dr Carol Richards, PhD: Professor of Rehabilitation, Faculty of Medicine, Université Laval

Simultaneous translation will be provided.